This popular choice combines modern benefits with a traditional appearance

With REHAU 70mm, you not only get a slim, stylish and attractive window and door system but also a product that incorporates all the benefits of modern PVC-U, whilst preserving the appearance of traditional timber frames.

Whatever the style of your home, we'll ensure that the window design blends in beautifully. Choose from casement windows – internally and externally beaded – fully reversible, bay or bow casements or 'tilt and turn' windows that enable easy cleaning from inside.

REHAU 70mm windows are available in classic White, rich Mahogany or warm Golden Oak wood finishes. You can even have windows and doors to match both your interior and exterior décor – for instance, a clean white finish on the inside and woodgrain or colour on the outside.

The traditional timber look is further enhanced by choosing either sculptured or chamfered sashes and, to complement your preferred style,

REHAU has a wide range of ancillary features. These include run-through sash horns – which are formed from the same material as the frames, to give an authentic finish and consistent colour. A traditional cottage look can be achieved with the addition of arched head inserts, or add external Georgian bars for a period finish. The choice of glazing is just as impressive, with leaded and stained glass or even bevelled for true aesthetic appeal.

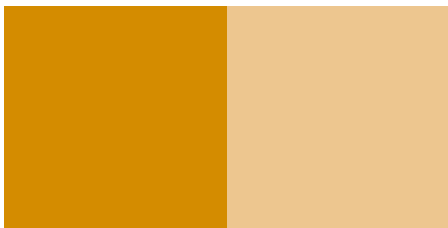

Using the REHAU 70mm system, we can really make the most of the entrance to your home. Whether it's contemporary or traditional, cottage style or Edwardian, we'll have just the door for you. We can provide French doors, residential, patio and stable doors too.

In addition to your new door, think about adding a canopy, porch or conservatory. A canopy will shelter you from the sun and rain, while a porch can provide a surprising amount of valuable extra space. And a conservatory effectively brings your garden right into your home for you to enjoy all year round.

Decades of experience inside every frame

 SOUND PROOF	 REDUCES BREAK-INS
 DRAUGHT PROOF	 HEAT INSULATION

The REHAU S706 70mm system comes from Europe's leading PVC-U manufacturer, which means very visible benefits for you. The frames won't need painting and won't warp, rot or discolour. They're very secure and comply with with all relevant building regulations.

Being PVC-U makes for greater thermal efficiency too, keeping your home warmer, keeping out draughts – and, with double-glazing, virtually halving outside noise levels.

Timeless and classic, practical and durable – the REHAU 70mm system is a well-established and popular choice. No wonder it's the preferred choice of so many people when replacing windows and doors.
